Awards For Homecoming Presented By Imbrock

Awards for Homecoming were given out by Arnold Imbrock, general Homecoming chairman, at Tuesday's convocation.

Of the three best floats in the parade, first prize went for the second consecutive year to the Music Appreciation club for its float; the second prize was awarded to the Pasavant club, while third prize went to the art class.

At Kastle Kopers on Friday night Kappa Delta Phi, honorary teachers organization, won first prize for its skit, "Seven Ages of Us." Women's Athletic association took second place for its "Sweet Dreams," and Wartburg Players were awarded third for their skit, "Picker Flashbacks."

First prize for the best decorated room in the women's dormitories was awarded to room 241 at Wartburg hall, which is occupied by Ann Ewers and Betty Pahnke, freshmen. Room 314, occupied by Lenore Schalk and Esther Bederschneider, freshmen, received second prize, while Evelyn and Marilyn Dreier, also freshmen, in room 214 took third prize.

In the men's dormitories, Omar Bondeval and Kenneth Krueger, seniors, of room 319, Grossmann hall, took first prize, while Paul Stumme, junior and freshman, occupants of room 215 Grossmann hall, won second prize, while room 213 in North hall was the winner of third prize. The occupants of the latter room are Clairmont Deuhs and Roger Kamphe.

This year for the first time, a traveling trophy was awarded to the best decorated dormitory. The winner of this trophy was Wartburg hall.

Abbott Speaker At Science Club

Dr. Roy L. Abbott, head of the department of zoology at Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, will be the speaker at the Science club meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 31, in the biology room, as reported by the club program committee chairman, Dr. Abbott.

Dr. Abbott, a well - known naturalist in southern Alaska, "every day in Science," is currently featured in the Science Service Bulletin Courier, has been a biology instructor at Iowa State for 32 years. He has been Tuesday evening speaker at various meetings of natural science men across the land.

"Science club invites everyone interested in this subject to attend," stated Melvin Gliefer, president.

Following the speaker, the regular business meeting of the club will be held.

'Saved To Serve' Is Moeller's Theme

"Saved to Serve" was the theme of the challenging address given in Tuesday convocation by the Rev. Paul Moeller, superintendent of the Lutheran Children's Friend Society in Waverly.

Mr. Moeller pointed out two reasons why we owe God a life of service.

"In the first place, our life is a gift from God," stated Moeller. "Secondly, God commands us it is more than luck that we are spared."

The Christian service, according to Mr. Moeller, is the only identifying characteristics. First of all, it is a life of service. One can serve in the capacity of teacher, nurse, worker, doctor, or nearly every walk of life. Secondly, it is a cooperative service which each must do his share. Finally, it is a consecrated service.

"Often it takes a lot of courage to do God's will, but may we always be willing to do it," concluded the speaker.

Hiltner Is Speaker

Dr. John Hiltner, professor of Latin and philosophy, will be guest speaker at St. John's Lutheran church in Tripoli Sunday morning, Oct. 23.

Sunday evening Dr. Hiltner will speak at the Luther League federation banquet to be held in St. Paul's parish house at Waverly.

Setting down to studying again after the Homecoming week-end, many students found themselves in the new library ready for cramming for the six weeks' tests presided them by instructors.

Radio Schedule Released

Tentative schedule for KNYT was released this week by Paul Lohnes, senior, station manager, and Bob Snyder, sophomore, program director. This schedule will go into effect as soon as a transmitter is available and actual broadcasting starts.

Broadcast time is not definite yet, although initial starts will be three hours. It will be during the evening, starting sometime between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. Time will be announced, however, as the personnel gains experience and new programs present themselves.

Six Retained.

Six programs have been retained from last year with most of their personnel. Lucy Wenzel and Jean Lindahl will retain the most favorite soprano comments and Waverly Shopping with the Bandwagon script throughout the year. Sports broadcasts will be among the programs which will return to the air. Name-the-Melody, "Wartburg News and Sports," "Wartburg Theatre of the Air" and "Open House."

Balancing the music to be presented was one of the most difficult problems which faced the planners. Music will be featured in as equal a manner as possible, popular and classical and that by organized groups and individuals. Programming to present as varied a listening pattern as possible. Three fifteen-minute programs of classical music and half-hour programs of "Open House" and Waverly Shopping with Bandwagon. There will be one half-hour program of jazz a week.

More Workers Needed.

Several students have already indicated a desire to work on the station, but many more are needed, particularly for such programs as "Theatre," "Concert Hall" and "Campus News" and the classical music broadcasts. Any student is eligible for anyone who is interested in any phase of broadcasting.

"Another organizational meeting will be held next week at which the two one-act plays are completed," Paul Lohnes announced. "All those who would like to work on the station are urged to attend."

An announcement will be made as to the date and time of the meeting.

Paul Lohnes and Harold Krueger, seniors, and Jerry Dorr and Bob Snyder, sophomores, will head the technical crew at the station, while Forrest Drotzer, junior, and Marilyn Dreier, sophomore, will be chief production.

New Schedule Varied.

New schedule calls starting time of 8 p.m. as follows:

8 p.m.—Name-the-Melody Line

8:15 p.m. — Tell Time

8:30 p.m. — Classical Music

8:45 p.m. — Town Crier: MWF

Wartburg Theatre of the Air: TTh

9 p.m. — Campus News and Sports

9:15 p.m.—Open House MTThF

Concert Hall: W

9:45 p.m. — Memory Lane

10 p.m. — Waverly Shop

10:30 p.m. — Classical Music

10:45 p.m. — Evening Devotions

Wartburg Directory Available Monday

Student directory of Wartburg college will go on sale next Monday, Oct. 24, in Luther hall, according to word this week from Omar Bondeval, president of the Beta Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity, sponsor of the annual publication.

Directory, edited and published by this group, will be a pocket-size printed manual containing pertinent data on Wartburg college students, faculty and staff members.

Sale price of the book will be 25 cents, according to Bondeval, and the books will be available at Luther hall all day near the main bulletin board of Luther hall.

Action was taken on the student body project of publication after the Student Senate met Monday night in the faculty room of Luther hall.

Because of the fact that only 150 students voted in the first election, the Senate decided to take another vote to determine whether or not the students of Wartburg were in favor of a student body project.

At the Senate meeting, James Keller, student body president, appointed a committee to investigate the possibilities of having chapel services. Members serving on this committee are Stan Wilgus, senior and chairman, George Utech and Katherine Mueller, both freshmen.

Students Favor Student Project In Convo Vote

Wartburg students voted Thursday morning, Oct. 13, to go in favor of a student body project, as announced by John Wagner, senior and chairman of the project committee.

This committee will select a list of possible projects from which the student body will make its choice.

Action was taken on the student body project situation when the Student Senate met Monday night in the faculty room of Luther hall.

Because of the fact that only 150 students voted in the first election, the Senate decided to take another vote to determine whether or not the students of Wartburg were in favor of a student body project.

Schmidt To Address

Dr. W. F. Schmidt, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church, Chicago, will address Wartburg Reformation group tomorrow, Oct. 23, in Luther hall, he has been informed, announced by John Bowman, president.

Chairman of the Lutheran Orient Mission Society in Iraq, Dr. Schmidt will speak on the work of this organization.

Clothing Drive Set For Oct. 31 - Nov. 5

Campus clothing drive will be conducted by various organizations on the campus, it was set Oct. 31 to Nov. 5 for the purpose of helping friendly European people, according to Arnold Imbrock, junior and chairman of the Wartburg Board of Dimes.

Boxes will be placed in the dormitories and also in Luther hall for all-campus students. The Wartburg March of Dimes will be a part of the CROP drive pledging to Germany.

Organizations in charge of the boxes are the Phebes, Mission fellowship group and the Hasi Sacia Verein.

One-Acts Postponed

One-act plays which were to be presented by Wartburg Players next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings have been postponed one week, according to Raymond Wilderman, director.

Tuesday and Thursday evenings, Nov. 1 and 3, have been set as the new dates for their presentation.

Undergraduate Fortress Pictures Scheduled For Next Two Weeks

Undergraduate Fortress pictures will be taken in the lounge of Wartburg hall beginning Wednesday, Oct. 26, it was announced by Troy-Weick studios of Eldora, Wednesday by Fred Hoskuri, Fortress business manager. Underclass pictures will be taken on Oct. 26, 27, 31 and Nov. 1 and 2.

Schedules for pictures will be posted on the bulletin boards located in the administration building, Wartburg hall and Old Main, so that when they will appear for their pictures may be found on the schedules. Lower classmen are not obligated to have pictures, as is the annual will receive a gloss print of each student free of charge.

Cooperation Asked.

Hoskuri asks every student is asked so that the Fortress may have a complete student section. Students not desiring photos will not be pictured in this year's Fortress.

Underclassmen may order pictures at the following re-order prices:

Pries At Convention

Clarence W. Pries, business manager of Wartburg college, is in Lincoln, Neb., attending a convention of the executive association of Educational Buyers. Pries will return to the business day early next week.

Ghosts, Witches To Haunt Brawl

Ghosts, witches, devils and gayer creatures for their reasons make Academia's trip to the moon in the Little Theater set 8 p.m. Saturday when Pi Sigma Kappa is over for another Masquerade Brawl.

According to club prexy Doris Schmidt, "This party is a very successful last year, we want to make it an annual affair."

For members and their dates only, the "brawl" is to be a costume affair. Judges will award three prizes to the most originally dressed fellow, girl and couple.

Square dancing and apple bobbing will be featured. During intermission a ghoul story will be told, a Halloween skit presented and cider and doughnuts served. Decorations will stress the Halloween theme.

Let's Yell Next Friday

As high-schoolish as it might seem to talk about yelling and school spirit, when the noise made at a football game reaches an ebb so low as it did last Saturday, the attendance of Wartburg college students is naturally questioned. Cheering, or the lack of it, at the Homecoming tussle between Wartburg and Westmar needs a bit of comment.

Perhaps the game was not close enough to create any spontaneous outbursts among the cheering sections, perhaps we were all saving our voices, or perhaps we figured that the boys on the field were doing such a good job that they didn't need our support. Whatever the reason, it is a fact that, if there were such a choice, the Wartburg cheers would have received more applause than the cheering at the Homecoming football game. The band was the only thing that could be heard sounding forth with the field song after touchdowns and conversions. And that is the time when floating overhead were receiving more attention than the football action.

And what better way is there to let loose with some of the yelling and noisemaking that must be inhibited in the classroom, during the library hours and in the act of quiet yelling at a football game. Incidentally, yelling is also an excellent way of letting the team members know that we are there behind them.

So let's hear some yelling at the game with Iowa Wesleyan next Friday evening. Let's have a little more encouragement when the going is tough. Let's show that we like it when Wartburg makes a first down or a touchdown. LET'S YELL!

Radio Station Needs Support

This summer a Wartburg student died while possessing the dream of managing a new FM radio station on the Wartburg campus. That student, Richard Neumann, was a boyman. Mich., had worked hard and fearlessly last spring in the hope that sometime this year he might begin broadcasting our own radio programs from our own station.

Now this radio station for which he dreamed needs the support of the students of Wartburg college in order to insure its reality. Last spring the students expressed their willingness to support the station by signing petitions at their student body project. Unfortunately, the proceeds of this drive did not live up to expectations, and the faculty and administration took this as an indication of indifference on the part of the Wartburg student body. This is one of the reasons why the radio transmitter for the Wartburg college station is not here on campus at this time.

We still have time, however, to renew our willingness to support the station and the spirit of enthusiasm that we really worth-while addition to the facilities of Wartburg college. The station will be a memorial to all of those who love us, and in what better way could we give our money than to designate it for the Wartburg college FM radio station, a memorial to Francis Neumann?

Freedom vs. Independence

Some people maintain that too much has already been said on the subject of communism, and that a little less publicity would help to lessen the tension and prevent a fear complex from forming. I don't agree with those people. I think we should talk about communism, and we should do it often, if not in every conversation.

A New York court recently convicted the 12 top U.S. communists of "advocating the violent overthrow of our government." These 12 men now face prison terms up to 10 years.

No doubt they had appeal. They will appeal on the grounds that the verdict violates the first amendment of the constitution. What's more, they will be right! The first amendment guarantees the freedom of speech, of the press and of assembly. There is no specific limit set on those freedoms.

The supreme court will thus be faced with a dilemma which I, for one, wouldn't want to have to face. Once before it can be stated as the "case of the rights of the individual under the constitution vs. the existence of the United States as an independent nation." The independence of that nation is based on the constitution which protects individual rights.

Let us not fool ourselves. The case of the defendants is simply the case of freedom according to the letter of the law they are inviolable. Unless we can prove that they have taken active steps to overthrow the government of the United States by violence.

The decision of the supreme court will therefore be of momentous importance. It will establish whether the existence of a nation is more important than the ideals which make that nation free. I know that it doesn't seem to make sense that those ideals are faced with the exercise of our belief in the "inalienable rights of the individual" in order to be able to hand down those ideals to our children.

We might call this period of time the "crossroads of democracy." Can our idealistic ideals of democracy survive before an attack by forces which do not recognize those ideals? Or is our struggle of rule impossible to achieve in practice because it places too high a demand on the character of its citizens?

The answer is beyond my knowledge. Those 12 men in prison, or should we let them go? I don't know. Perhaps some of you who are reading this column will have some ideas. If you do, why not write a letter to the editor on the subject? Perhaps we can settle this question, at least in our own minds, by group discussion.

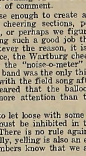
A Nice Week-End

But Jim's Still Busy

By Bill Bayken

One person who was really enjoying Homecoming festivities last week-end was Jim Keller, better known as student body president of Wartburg college. Jim had a special reason for enjoying Homecoming so much, for last year he held the reins of the student chairman and was the recipient of all the worries connected with such an occasion.



Jim Keller

AFTER SPENDING the last week-end attending activities in Grossmann 309, Pipe Dreams is rather tired this week. As all normal 309 was the scene of parties, drinking, entertaining and corpse hanging. We almost thought they'd never get those drapery rods up.

o o o

DICK MCCAULLEY always seems to be having trouble this week he joined the Little Theater. Now it is a question of who paint brushes in usable condition.

o o o

If you think that the buildings superintendent has troubles, take a look at Charlie Sec's difficulties—and then take a look at the college truck.

o o o

PIPE DREAMS muses it practice to avoid talking about the dead persons all the time but how can a person avoid mentioning "Haunted Hotel" Gundacker and his darling defense of the president's powers the other morning? From now on it's "Freeman Gundacker, boys.

o o o

Quotation of the week comes from the Wartburg Knightie who, upon hearing that the coach had allowed one students to witness the night of the Homecoming banquet, uttered the immortal words, "But what'd we do till then?" Ah, youth!

AND IF YOU get tired of thinking about this and that, you can always begin to think about the next set of six-weeks exams.

From Our Readers

Dear Editor:

This letter is to be in the form of a hearty "thank you" for the Oct 8 edition of the Wartburg Trumpet. Never in the past in my years of transmitting a little more information to you and the student body concerning this project.

During the first six weeks' period of the current school year, the collection situation has not been good, only $187.1, or an average of slightly over 21 cents per student. To break it down a little farther, the average for the first week per week per cent was .75¢, a very far cry from averages of the past. During the summer seminar—also a six-week term—the average was $30.00 per week. The student body numbered less than one hundred.

No doubt the fact that the Thanksgiving offerings can be attributed to the fact that fewer ec-Ti's are enrolled at Wartburg. Due to their travels and experiences they seemed to have better conception of the present situation and did what they could to alleviate the hunger and nakedness. Many of our students today have been little of this world condition, nor do they care to know about it. If only they would read some of the letters that I and other Wartburg students have received from recipients of our food and clothing parcels!

The year we are shipping only clothing, and if you have tried to buy clothing recently, you will agree that it takes a lot of money. Our first shipment will be transmitted next week and will be on display in the administration building Thursday, Oct. 27, in order to give the student body a chance to add their mite to the total. A container for contributions will also be there for all to use.

The March of Dimes definitely needs a boost, and any support or suggestions from any or all of the Wartburg family will be greatly appreciated.

Knights Fall After Homecoming Win

By Adam Meidinger

On a slippery, soggy field, which possibly decided the outcome of the game, a rough, punching, crushing Simpson eleven wrung out a 13-6 win over Wartburg at Simpson Thursday night.

Rain before the game and intermittent downpours in the first and fourth quarters put a damper on the Knights' chances of winning their third loop victory. A torrential downpour during the final quarter and would have left all of the game had it not been for the condition of the field. Wartburg fumbled seven times in all, but the Knight backs had a hard time getting started and failed to make much headway.

Game a Battle.

The game was another rough battle, even worse than the Luther encounter. If Simpson, the present conference leader, and Luther would happen to meet, it would be interesting to note the outcome of the tussle.

Simpson scored both of its touchdowns in the first half. In the initial period, the Storming Mt paydirt after a 60-yard march. Shortly before the half ended Simpson scored again on a play that covered 31 yards. Ken Korsrud caught a 36-yard pass and scampered the remaining 25 yards for the deciding touchdown.

Wartburg's lone TD came in the third quarter. A pitchout from Tyner Mathers to Ev Bauer netted 28 yards to the four-yard line. Three plays later Orthomas Express bulled over for the score.

Knights Take Westmar.

Last Saturday the Knights trounced Wartburg homecomers to conduct another Blue Black and Orange shoved Westmar around for a 19-7 win.

Not since 1940 have the Knights lost a Homecoming battle, although they were tied by Simpson in 1944.

As the game got under way, the Golden Eagles from LeMars threatened to give the Knights more trouble than they had bargained for. After only two and one-half minutes had elapsed, Eagle end Bob Goblet recovered a blocked Wartburg kick in the end zone for a touchdown. Deedrick booted the extra point and Wartburg trailed, 7-0.

However, Wartburg's time-tested system soon began to wear the Westmar squad down, and the Wartburg machine began to roll in high gear. With quarterback Stan Wigen acting as engineer, the Knights scored before the first period ended, on a pass, to Wigen to Steinhauer.

Sowers Intercepts.

Darrel Sowers scored what proved to be the deciding TD when he intercepted an Eagle pass and made a spine-tingling 59-yard touchdown jaunt along the sidelines for the score.

Waldo Platte blocked a Westmar kick on the 22-yard marker, and Paul Brune carried the ball four times to score on the last play of the first half to put the Knights ahead, 13-7.

In the third period another Wigmen to Steinhauer pass netted Wartburg's fourth score. Walt Block booted the extra point. The final Knight score was made by Lynn Brown on an end sweep from the Duncan-Platte stripe after a 37-yard Wigmen to Steinhauer combination set up the play.

Athlete Honors Go To Wignes

By Rudy Kelberer

Athlete-of-the-Week honors went to Stanley Wignes, 21-year-old Northwood junior and offensive quarterback of the Knights. Co-captain of the Homecoming tilt, Wignes completed four straight aerial attempts for 86 yards and two touchdowns. Clever as a field general and hard-working on defense, the three-year letter winner played his usual steady game to earn his first recognition as the "W" club's Athlete-of-the-Week.

Standing 5 feet 8 inches and weighing 155 pounds, Stan has been a workhorse in the backfield all season. He has completed 13 of 28 passes for a respectable .417 average and a total of 140 yards, has seen considerable action on defense and also has been instrumental in making Wartburg's bulwarked box formation click.

He is finishing a four-year teaching course and is taking a double major in physical education and mathematics. "W" club and Kappa Delta Kappa, future teachers group are organizations of which Stan is a member. He is also a Senior Senator.

"It really isn't hard to the feet. He follows to have one player singled out in a game when they are all in there trying, as was the case in the Westmar game," is a statement made by Stan which shows his modesty and fine sense of teamwork.

From The Sidelines

By the Spectator

Knight fan hopes took it on the chin Thursday night as Simpson got revenge for the 7-6 loss at Wartburg's Homecoming. With their 13-6 victory, the maroon temporarily moved into championship possession of first place and set themselves up as a definite title threats.

Minnesota must have scented the aroma of roses in the Pasadena bowl as the giant line of scrimmages ripped Ohio State and its field to shreds 49-0. This may well have decided the Big Ten championship as well as the conference entry in the Rose Bowl. Wisconsin surprised many and rolled to its biggest score since 1930, 46-18, before a capacity crowd of 50,000 at Madison. Purdue, which had been called a loosing Tuffalo bill off a lucky streak, it seems, turned onto Notre Dame's home grounds wearing green shirts and a 7th straight undefeated, untied season. Iowa's Hawkeyes, in conference with paralyzing fury and pinned a 46-7 defeat on the hopless Green Wave.

Iowa Standings In New Light.

Iowa conference standings took on an entirely new light last Saturday as Buchanan fell out of first place when defeated by Central, thus leaving Central and Simpson on top with two wins and no losses. Coe and Luther was tied by Valparaiso, it still has 1 conference win-and-no-defeat set as this was a non-conference affair. Iowa Wesleyan is tied with Luther for third place. Wartburg is coupled with Dubuque in fourth place.

Upper Iowa dropped into a sixth place tie alongside Buena Vista with a pair of non-loses record as a result of a defeat handed the Upper Iowans by Loras Dubuque at Storm Lake. Penn with no wins and two losses and Parsons with no wins and three losses are Homecoming fatalities, among with the rest of the Wartburg foes we shall see the Knights play this year.

Sowers Receives Mention.

Special mention goes to the "From the Sidelines" player of the week. Darrel Sowers on offense and defense looks like a man who will step into Warren Wigen's shoe will replace Paul Brune next year. His pass interception and subsequent goalward dash was one of the high spots of the game.

Brune picked up 127 yards to boost his total to an even 400 in four games. Wigen and Becker lived up to their titles while Walt Block finally broke the ice and made a conversion.

Final Leads Go-overs.

Best football presenter of the week was Norm Finkel, sports writer, politician and scholarly non-school-cvwn. Norm showed his savvy of football by predicting the results of seven contests. Only ably was on the Northwestern-Michigan State game.

Eagle Grove JC's Hand Squires Loss

Eagle Grove junior college defeated the Wartburg "B" squad 19-7 last night as the Squires again failed to crack the win column. Except in the weather, the game was midway through the fourth quarter before the Squires could score.

Small but fast, the Pirates scored after five minutes had elapsed in the first quarter. Halfback Strain went over from the line-yard line for the TD after a 31 yard sustained drive to give the Pioneers a 6-0 lead which they held at halftime.

A 4-yard Tricbrook to McIgven aerial set up the second Eagle Grove touchdown early in the third quarter. The Squires again marched to their opponents 10 yard line but their drive was halted by an interception pass. The Pirates then took to the air to score their third and last tally. Converting the extra point, the Eagles team piled up a 19-0 lead.

With 10 playing minutes remaining, Coach Bueghardt's charges marched 70 yards for their only tally, tornadic Green fire 10 yards, a Kittleson to Longudoro pass went for 15 yards, and Sowers carried the leather for 13 yards in the touchdown drive. Kittleson plunged over from the four to pull paydirt and Becker converted the extra point for the Squires.

'Now's The Time,' Says Fricke In Thursday Night Chapel Talk

By David Geske

"Now is the time to take the Gospel of Christ into the corners of the earth. This is the hour for Christians to take their Christianity seriously."

So spoke Dr. Theodore Fricke, executive secretary of the board of foreign missions of the American Lutheran church, before the large chapel audience Thursday evening, Oct. 20, in the Little Theater.

Speaking easily and familiarly before a mostly representation of the Wartburg family, Fricke explicitly emphasized the fact that foreign missions DO pay. The stockily-built, slightly - balding executive traced the history of the development of the Wartburg foreign missions, India and New Guinea, with particular emphasis on the latter.

Relation Is Vivid

His vivid relation of several stirring missionary episodes of the war and post-war periods held the listeners in rapt attention.

Dr. Fricke concluded his remarks with the words, "What is God's purpose for my life? How may I best fulfill God's will?"

Rich commendation by Fricke went to the new-by-formed Mission Fellowship group on campus for its practical missionary endeavors and zealous spirit. He met and conducted a question and answer period with the missionary organization immediately after the Thursday evening chapel. The speaker dwelt largely on the preparation for full-time overseas service.

Lauds Short-termers.

At a Friday morning interview Fricke, very experienced world traveler, lauded the work of the recently returned New Guinea short-termers.

"Their construction work was excellent, their example to the natives inspirational," he stated.

Dick Propp and Leon Phillipi, both Wartburg students, were members of this volunteer work unit.

A native Michiganer, Dr. Fricke said his trip from the Columbian church headquarters was for the express purpose of appearances at Wartburg Seminary and at Wartburg.

Langholz At Meets

The Rev. W. C. Langholz, director of development at Wartburg college, attended two district finance committee meetings on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

On Tuesday he attended the meeting of the finance committee of the Central district of the American Lutheran church in Omaha, Neb., and on Wednesday he attended a similar meeting of the Illinois district in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Langholz is making preliminary plans for the educational appeal drive to be conducted throughout the church during 1950.

Cornils Is Honored By Hans Sachs Club

Jacob Cornils, professor emeritus of German, was made an honorary member of the Hans Sachs Verein at its monthly meeting Tuesday evening in Old Main, as reported by Henry Grabkowsky, president.

Prof. Cornils gave an explanatory talk about Hans Sachs, the man after whom the club is named. He told the group that the first Hans Sachs Verein members were poetry, and he suggested that the German club here should follow this example.

Miss Elna Jacob and Edward C. Hinrichsmeyer, instructors in German, were elected as advisers for the group. Henry Grabkowsky, junior and president, appointed Doug Geschwind, sophomore, as chairman of a committee to revise the constitution, and Fred Moberg, sophomore, as publicity chairman.

Following the business meeting, Phillip Krumm, senior, directed group singing of German folk songs.

LSA Plans Hayride

Hayride planned by the Lutheran Student association to which everyone is invited, will leave Luther hall tomorrow evening at 6:15 p.m.

Plans for the evening include a supper and get - together around a bonfire at the stone quarry north of Waverly.

Organizing, Electing On Pix Club Agenda

Organizing the club and electing the remaining officers will be, according to Elwin Bergstrasser, president of the organization, the purpose of the Camera club meeting next Thursday evening in room 20 of Luther hall.

Program for the ensuing year and plans of the club will be outlined at the meeting. The club, meeting twice a month, will conduct a class for beginners on the fundamentals of photography once each month. At the other meeting the business session will be held and a topic presented by some outside speaker.

Club Will Consider

Pep club's proposed constitution, as drawn up by a committee headed by Janice Press, was presented to the members of that organization for approval last Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the south room of the Knights gym.

Plans for a special pep rally to be held on the evening of Nov. 2 for the Upper Iowa game were discussed. Ken Hill, junior, was appointed chairman in charge of the rally.

New Members Taken By Pi Sig Thursday

New members were received into Pi Sigma at the formal initiation in Wartburg hall lounge last Thursday evening.

Parts of the constitution were read to acquaint newcomers with the purpose of the organization, and the Pi Sigma pledge was repeated. Dottie Herrlault, junior and president of the group, led the initiation ceremonies.

New Baby Arrives

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mueller announced the arrival of an eight-pound three-ounce baby boy, Danny Ray, born on Oct. 12. Art is a freshman pre-theological student majoring in German.
